TWO MONGOL DIVISIONS WITH PONIES, CAMELS REPORTED IN KOREA

Two divisions of hardy mountain Mongolian cavalry with camel caravans for supply were identified in North Korea by General MacArthur's headquarters today. The announcement did not say whether the red horsemen were from Inner Mongolia, a northwest territory of Red China, or Outer Mongolia, the first oriental country officially set up as a communist people's republic [which] has a mutual assistance pact with Russia.

The Mongolian cavalry division was located in northern Korea in the central western sector. "They are extremely mobile and capable of traversing the roughest terrain," General MacArthur announced.

Their ponies are accustomed to the extreme low temperatures, biting winds of the Mongolian plateau. The Mongolian cavalrymen are sturdy and tough. Their normal existence is one of hardship and exposure to the elements.

On the basis of this article, it occurred to me that the report that I tried to recall concerning Russia and their cavalry might be a true interpretation of the passage in Ezekiel.
